to operate with a vacancy for at least several weeks.

Burger, 62, is the 155th man to occupy the center chair in the Court's 179 year history. He takes over for Earl Warren, who was chief justice for 16 years.

Two of the holdover justices, Hugo L. Black and William O. Douglas, are veterans of more than 30 years on the Court. Black, at 83, has served 32 years. Douglas, 71 on Oct. 16, is in his 31st year.

The holdovers are John Marshall Harlan, 70; William J. Brennan Jr., 63; Potter Stewart, 54; Byron R. White, 52; and Thurgood Marshall, 61.

This venerable group, averaging 64½ years old, has before it a docket that invites an expansion of rights for the poor and the discontent.

On the civil rights front, Negro homeowners are seeking an opportunity to use community swimming pools and other recreation facilities regularly open to white families that live in the neighborhood.

The poor are clamoring among other things, for a guaranteed formal hearing before welfare can be reduced or cut off.

Vietnam dissenters, meanwhile, are challenging the priority induction of "delinquents" who turn in or burn their draft cards.

And religious, civil rights and civil liberties groups have united in attacking capital punishment in instances where the victim's life was not taken.

Cuban Pilot Defects in Soviet Jet

HOMESTEAD AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — A Russian-made MIG17 fighter plane piloted by a defecting Cuban officer landed Sunday near President Nixon's Air Force One jetliner.

As Nixon relaxed 30 miles away at his Key Biscayne retreat, the pilot set the Korean War vintage plane down on the base's only runway at 12:25 p.m. EDT.

Air Force One stood on an apron being readied for the President's return to Washington.

The little jet was picked up by radar 90 miles east of Key West, a Defense Department spokesman said. Military sources de-

Lower Court Upheld in Divorce Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today upheld G. Thomas Eisele, former legal adviser to Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, against charges by a divorce client that he had intentionally given her wrong legal advice in a property settlement.

The high court thus upheld Pulaski County Circuit Court except on a $6,000 judgment for attorney fees, which was remanded to the lower court.

Mrs. Courdia Alleene Ashley had appealed the Circuit Court ruling to the Supreme Court. She sought a judgment for the attorney fees, $85,000 damages she said she suffered because of the property settlement, and $25,000 punitive damages.

The settlement she said she accepted because of Eisele's advice amounted to $15,000.

In January 1968, Mrs. Ashley filed her complaint against Eisele alleging that she had only recently learned that she had wrongfully and intentionally advised her as to her property rights, that she was entitled to a $100,000 settlement rather than the $15,000, and that she only agreed to accept the $15,000 in property settlement because of Eisele's advice.

The 5-0 opinion was written by Associate Justice J. Fred Jones.

The high court also ordered two Boone County men to pay Arkansas $22,350 for possession of untaxed cigarettes.

In a first trial, Leo Walton and Micford Fuller each got four years, which was reversed by the Supreme Court, but on a second trial each received 10-year sentences. The high court upheld that sentence last April.

Walton is serving time at Cummins Prison Farm but Fuller is free on bond while his conviction is being appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

In the raid on a warehouse near Harrison, investigating officers discovered 8,940 packages of cigarettes bearing the Missouri tax stamp but without an Arkansas stamp. There is a state penalty of $25 per package, which would amount to $223,500, but testimony revealed that the officers examined only one package in each 10-package carton so the jury returned a $22,350 verdict.

Walton and Fuller appealed the verdict on grounds that the fine was excessive.

Associate Justice George Rose Smith said "it could not be seriously contended that a penalty of $25 for the unlawful possession of one package of untaxed cigarettes is excessive" when one considers how much the operation of state government depends upon the taxes.

In other cases, the court: — Upheld a $17,000 judgment to Farris Coffman of Conway County for .66 acres claimed by the state Highway Commission for right of way for Arkansas 9. The commission had contended that $7,500 would be just compensation.

— Affirmed a Circuit Court decision at Fort Smith where a jury awarded $20,000 to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis claimed by the commission from parcels that amounted to 65 acres in one case and 15 acres in another. The commission contended the amount of the verdict was not supported by substantial evidence.

Investigation Division and Sheriff's office was generally inadequate. Lack of attention to details was likely occasioned by statements received early in the case. It is felt that presumption displaced professional efficiency, causing more questions to be subsequently raised in this area of investigative work.

The pursuit of responsibilities as investigative officers while in reflects tenacity and devotion to the job; However, it is more commendable, even mandatory, that in such instances, other personnel be called in to take charge, to assure thoroughness in the work and avoid impairment of the total investigative function which would, as demonstrated, otherwise result.

It is further recommended that the officers investigating felonies in Hempstead County, regardless of their official position, take note of the standard procedures used and recommended by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and by other outstanding agencies of law enforcement, including the head of the Arkansas State Police Criminal Investigation Division, and that they follow such procedures in all cases, avoiding decisions for any reason to omit certain tests or procedures, which subjective decisions most certainly could later be called into question.

The Grand Jury, in this regard, expressly recommends that in the future, photographs be taken in all capital cases. The Grand Jury takes note of the relative importance between capital cases and other felonies and admits that two standards of procedure might advantageously be used.

The Grand Jury further recommends that in the future, the Sheriff's office of Hempstead County accept and discharge its primary responsibility for investigation of felonies in Hempstead County. The additional training and expertise made available to this office by the Criminal Investigation Division of the Arkansas State Police is admitted, but to abdicate final responsibility in these matters may result in chaos and public disillusionment with judicial process, and perhaps even miscarriage of justice.

The Grand Jury recommends that all agencies be coordinated and that there be no breakdown in communication between them which would result in a deficient investigative report.

The Hempstead County Coroner, J. T. Honeycutt, is to be commended for his candor and cooperative attitude in his appearances before the Grand Jury. However, it is recommended that his office determine the limits of its jurisdiction. The results to be accomplished by an investigation determine a standard procedure to accomplish such results and proceed accordingly. The Grand Jury is confident of the Coroner's ability and his willingness to follow this practice.

During the investigation by this committee, testimony was received which caused the Grand Jury to reach the following conclusions: That Dennis Turner, Richard Turner, Larry Walker and William Waller, on or about Easter night, 1967, burglarized Martin's Shoe Store and the Hope High School in the City of Hope. To obtain the information resulting in this conclusion, the Grand Jury granted to Richard Turner immunity from prosecution for this crime. The Grand Jury therefore requests that indictments for burglary again Dennis Turner, Larry Walker and William Waller be presented to it by the Prosecuting Attorney.

The Committee Concerning Misconduct of Public Officials with primarily involved in the investigation of the flourishing business of illegal sale of intoxicants in this county. It was assisted by the Hempstead County Christian Civic Foundation, whose obvious willingness to work in the area of crimes involving intoxicating beverages is admirable and appreciated by the Grand Jury. It is the conclusion of the Grand Jury that illegal sale of intoxicating beverages has been under the ## Double Agent's Wife Paid $6,472 by U.S.

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. government has paid $6,472 to the wife of the reported Vietnamese double agent in the Green Beret murder case, but the U.S. Command described the payment as a "missing person gratuity."

A spokesman said the woman, Phan Kim Lien, accepted the payment Saturday. He added: "The amount of the settlement was mutually agreed upon and represents what is determined to be adequate compensation."

Asked how the amount was arrived at, he said the number of children in the family and other factors were taken into consideration.

The spokesman said the woman's husband, Thak Khan Chuyen, "has been missing since June 20 while on duty with the U.S. Special Forces, Detachment B41, Moc Hoa, Republic of Vietnam."

Closest scrutiny of the city Police Department, particularly preceding the convening of the Grand Jury. The Department is to be commended for an arrest record within the city limits of Hope which totals 565 intoxicating beverage connected arrests from June 1968, through January, 1969. That due to this pressure placed on the illegal seller of liquor and beer in the city limits, the publicity created by the convening of the Grand Jury, and the interest of the Hempstead County Christian Civic Foundation, Hope "bootleggers" have been of an extremely cautious nature and quite difficult to apprehend in the act of making a sale by the Grand Jury's which should lead to prosecution and correction is being delivered to the office of the Prosecuting Attorney. ridge, the clique of sergeants and a retired major general met to plan a scheme to manipulate U.S. and Vietnamese currency and to direct the investment of illicit funds skimmed from the clubs.

— That some of the sergeants formed their own firm—the Meredem Corp.—to sell equipment and goods to the clubs they themselves ran.

— That payoffs in money and liquor dampened outcries and caused official investigations to be hampered or halted.

— That the provost marshal general of the army, Gen. Carl C. Turner, personally intervened to halt an investigation that threatened to link alleged illegal activities in Augsburg and Ft. Benning—an alleged action one of his key investigators say he called a "Goddamn fix."

— That files containing records of a 1943 court martial and two counts of AWOL against Woodridge mysteriously disappeared from a record depository.

— And that there existed a highly unusual system which enabled the sergeants involved to be transferred in a body from Augsburg to Ft. Benning to Vietnam—in each case to assignments as NCO club officials.

Says Artificial Sweetener Health Hazard

By G. C. THELEN Jr.
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration, nearly a year after government scientists reported a possible health hazard, is showing signs of concern about cyclamate, an artificial sweetener used by an estimated 175 million Americans.

The sweetener, known as cyclamate, has been linked most recently to severe birth defects in chickens.

Cyclamate is found in a wide range of products from bacon to children's vitamins to diet soft drinks and diet foods.

FDA scientists reported in late October 1968 that a cyclamate break-down product formed by one of every five humans who use the sweetener causes a shattering of genetic material when given to rats. Comparable genetic breaks in humans are associated with birth deformities and cancer.

Following network television accounts of the deformed chicks, FDA commissioner Herbert L. Ley, Jr. called late last week for a 30-day, hurry-up evaluation of cyclamates by the non-governmental National Academy of Science.

On its delivery, said Ley, "I will decide the best methods of restricting the use of cyclamate."

Consumer spokesmen on Capitol Hill, led by Senator Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., have complained the FDA has reacted too slowly to cyclamate danger signs.

The agency failed to alert a National Academy of Science Panel to the FDA chromosome study, the critics say. The NAS panel issued a generally favorable report on cyclamates in December.

And, the critics point to the fact that Ley waited 4 months after the report before proposing what they say are mild labeling restrictions on cyclamate use.

Products would have to show cyclamate content, and adults and children would be advised to limit their intake of the substance. The proposed regulations have not yet been put into effect.

Ley only last week directed extension of last year's studies on rat chromosomes to other laboratory animals. He also wants the chick embryo studies repeated in mammals.

Doctor Jacqueline Verrett, an FDA scientist, found that 15 per cent of chicken eggs injected with even tiny cyclamate doses produced deformed embryos.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

Dear Helen: We started out great with our youngsters. When we retired three years ago it was, "Come live with us, Mom and Dad. We have plenty of room and you might as well give us your rent money." And give we did!

While son and daughter-in-law dashed off to have fun after dinner, Grandma did the dishes and put the children to bed. She also did most of the housework and baby sitting.

And Gramps? Well, he weeded, mowed and trimmed. He helped with grandson's homework, took the kids on outings which, of course, he enjoyed. Dad is a busy person in his spare time—all that golfing and boating. But just let Gramps correct Junior and Dad's parental pride was hurt.

Then there was the matter of money. Loans big and small, sometimes conveniently forgotten.

Our children couldn't understand why we moved out, choosing a cramped apartment to their spacious home. But now we're really living! Only our closest and dearest friends know where to find us. But my wife reads to the small neighbors and when they raise their dark eyes to us and grin, or their parents and big brothers and sisters ask our advice or just sit and air their problems, we know we belong.

At 68, my wife and I are more spry than half the people we know who are under 50. We aren't about to head for a retirement village. We DO need more income and we hope someday old age benefits will catch up with the cost of living, but we're busy and contented.

A word to oldsters invited in to live with their children. The cards are stacked against you. Speculation begins. Are the folks unable to care for themselves. Broke perhaps? They are patronized; the children are pitied by their friends. There are never two sides of the situation in the eyes of onlookers.

Live alone, Grandpa and Grandma. — GRAMPS

Dear Gramps: Cheers, Gramps and Grandma. You've transformed the end of living into the "living end!" — H.

PERSONAL TO "WHY DO BACHELORS ACT THATWAY?" — Because they want to remain bachelors! You asked me to print your letter so "he" could read it. That's sure way to lose him. Do your own proposing—much more subtly! — H.

Dear Helen: More on "Parking Lot Etiquette." You can get plastic or rubber protectors for your car doors, but that doesn't save YOUR car if the guy next to you doesn't have them. I think they should be standard equipment on all cars. Also, people who give themselves lots of space on the drivers' side are Worth remembering: "A little lie is not so bad—it's all those you have to tell to keep up with the first that makes you so uncomfortable."

Know your language: Why is Cupid often called Dan Cupid? Cupid, the god of love, derives from the Latin word "cupido," meaning desire, passion, or love. Dan is merely an old title of honor or respect, similar to Lord, Master or sir. Poetic references to Dan Cupid date from the 14th century.

Those who lay out parking lots could help, by making spaces less skimpy. Seems to me a supermarket which advertised "Easy, no-nick parking" would prosper, even if it had a few less slots. — F.R.L.

Cats Survive Big Test at Malvern

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Passing the first big test against an inspired opponent, the Hope Bobcats blasted the Malvern Leopards 20-6 last Friday night in the 4-AA West opener before a full house at Malvern's Homecoming.

Once again, the Bobcat defense thwarted the opposing offense while Hope moved the ball well both running and passing. Artis Martin passed the century mark for the fifth time with 110 yards on 16 carries, including one 58-yard dash early in the first period. After the Cats had failed to score twice while driving to the Malvern 15 and 21-yard lines, the Leopards decided to open up their mediocre passing game. When they did, sophomore quarterback David Pennington's second throw was intercepted by sophomore Bobcat linebacker Steve Harris, who had clear sailing for 41 yards and the first six-pointer.

Ronny Brown kicked the extra point, and with 3:07 left in the quarter Hope led 7-0.

That one hurt Malvern emotionally, but a few minutes later Leopards fullback Roy McLamore fumbled a David Still punt at his own 29, and Ronny Brown recovered there for the Bobcats.

Massanelli hit senior end Lee Davis with a perfect throw over the shoulder, and Davis ran all the way to the seven before being hauled down. With Artis Martin out temporarily with a bothersome ankle, Thomas Lloyd in two plays moved it to the one. From there, fullback Gary Jones dived over for his second TD.

Once more Brown split the uprights, and the 14-0 Hope margin held to the half.

In the third frame, the Cats first drove to the Leopards 15 before two major penalties (for the night Hope was given 145 yards' worth on 13 calls) forced a punt to the end zone, but shortly thereafter came a break that eventually ruined Malvern mentally.

Punting from his own 29, Leopards Ronnie Ledbetter, was knocked down when his teammate knocked a Bobcat into him. No penalty was called, which was right, and the resulting kick only went three yards to the Malvern 32.

Two downs later another 15-yarder set Hope back to midfield. Then Massanelli handed to Gary Jones, who gave back to the junior quarterback. Rolling right with no pressure from the defense, Ronnie threw a beauty to David Still, who caught it outside two defenders and was run out five yards short of the goal.

Artis Martin tried twice unsuccessfully to score, then from the one Massanelli sneaked over for his first touchdown of the fall. Brown kicked it wide right, but with 5:29 left in the third segment Hope had the safe 20-0 spread.

Now Malvern came back for their only drive of the game, moving 84 yards amidst Bobcat penalties to a touchdown. The score came after eight minutes, as Pennington hit McLamore with a screen and the big fullback lumbered all the way. Going for the two-point conversion, Pennington was swarmed under at the nine, and with 10:08 to play the 20-6 verdict was given.

Defensive tackle Lynn Norton, the 195-pound soph who suffered a broken left thumb late in the game, was taken to Wadley Hospital in Texarkana for treatment and will be out of action for several weeks. However, the injury is not as bad as earlier expected, and actually it was not broken but dislocated from a joint.

Now, with the 4-1 record overall and a 1-0 standing in 4-AA West, the schedule returns the Bobcats home this Friday to face the North Little Rock Oak Grove Hornets in a non-conference battle. The Hornets are defending champions in District 5-A North and were 7-4 last season, but have opened this year 1-3 against some tough competition.

Don't discount Malvern, because they could wind up as a crucial figure in the Western Division race. The Leopards are tough and they hit very hard, and they could right all the wrongs starting this week as they travel to Camden to face the Panthers, who were humiliated 26-44 last Friday at the hands of Arkadelphia.

Tonight the Hope "B" Lizards try for their second straight win, traveling to Camden for a rematch against the Panthers, who won an earlier meeting 20-6. The kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m. in Camden's Coleman Stadium.

A-State Nips Tennessee Team 29-22

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Lamar Tech, Trinity and UT-Arlington will try to improve the already sparkling Southland Conference intersectional football schedule this week.

Lamar Tech will host Southern Illinois while Trinity goes to Southeastern Louisiana and UT-Arlington plays at McNeese State in the only SLC action. Arkansas State and unbeaten Abilene Christian have open dates.

SLC teams almost made it a clean sweep last week, winning four of five inter-league clashes to raise their showing against outside competition to 11-5.

Abilene Christian bombed crosstown rival McMurray 30-2 for its fourth straight victory. In other games Arkansas State nipped Tennessee Tech, 29-22; Lamar Tech edged New Mexico State 9-7; UT-Arlington downed East Texas State 38-28 and Davidson nipped Trinity 17-16 on a field goal in the last 32 seconds of the game.

David Wallace got ACC going with a three-yard touchdown run and by halftime the Wildcats led 22-0.

Quarterback Ronnie Faulkner threw touchdown strikes of 35 and 14 yards and completed 23 of 38 passes to lead UT-Arlington past East Texas State.

Orioles One Step From World Series

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — The New York Mets were back in their own backyard today, looking to wrap up their National League playoff series with the Atlanta Braves and move on to their first World Series in their almost implausible eight-year history.

The Braves, on the other hand, were looking for a replacement for their unofficial mascot, Chief Noc-A-Homa—preferably someone who could throw a ball or catch a grounder after two games in which they looked like carbon copies of the old Mets.

The new Mets fashioned a 2-0 lead in the best-of-five playoff series during the weekend despite ineffective pitching by aces Tom Seaver and Jerry Koosman, making the most of 23 hits, five Braves errors and several mental mistakes for 9-5 and 11-6 victories.

That put the amazing Mets, who stumbled through seven years of ineptness before starting their rags-to-riches story this season, one step away from the frenzy that is certain to overtake usually staid New York City if the Mets win their first pennant.

Shea Stadium began filling early today with the usual Met fan—the long suffering banner-carrier who suddenly has found he can take pride in the club, and proved it by almost virtually tearing up the place the night the Mets clinched the National League East title.

The exhilarated fans tore up patches of grass for trophies, took home pieces of the scoreboard as keepsakes and ripped up every base except first in a wild celebration. They probably will make sure they get that, too, if the Mets finish it off today when Gary Gentry (13-12) goes against Pat Jarvis (13-11).

Today is Gentry's 23rd birthday and the 12th day after his pennant-clinching victory for the Mets in the National League East. But whether he would be around at the finish was a big question, considering the pattern of the first two games.

In the first one Saturday, the 25-game winning Seaver was tagged for eight hits, including two homers and four doubles, in seven innings. But the Mets came through with a five-run eighth inning built on four unearned runs to win it.

Then, Sunday, Koosman was chased in the fifth inning after surrendering seven hits, including a homer and two doubles. But the Mets made the most of 13 hits, three Atlanta errors, an obstruction call and an uncovered base to put another away.

And that left little doubt that both the Mets and Braves were shocked by the turn of events that had completely altered the odds which had favored Atlanta's hitting against New York's pitching.

"If I had been told before the series started we'd get six and five runs off Koosman and Seaver," said Braves' star Hank Aaron, his head shaking from side to side. "I would have thought we'd sweep the series."

Aaron, who has hit 554 homers during regular season play, in his career has hit one each of the two playoff games so far, giving Chief Noc-A-Homa an opportunity to into his war dance in front of his tepee in left field.

But more than homer hitters, the Braves need people who can throw the ball accurately and can pick up a grounder.

A wild throw by first baseman Orlando Cepeda led the tie-breaking run score in the eighth inning of Saturday's game and throwing errors were added by Aaron and Cepeda in a three-run second inning and two-run third inning Sunday.

That helped the Mets build a 9-1 lead that proved insurmountable, and has created a major headache for Atlanta manager Lum Harris, who admits he is totally confused by the Braves' shoddy fielding.

"If I knew what was causing it, I'd know what to do about it," Harris said. "If I through it would help, I'd try anything. I've got the best team I've got planned for an encore in today's game, Powell grinned and replied:

"We could go out and score 10 runs in the first inning, but I wouldn't bet on it after these two games."

"We'd like to win in nine," said Orioles slugger Frank Robinson, "but they can go 50 innings as far as I'm concerned—as long as we win 'em."

"We're not going to argue with success."

Mets at Home, Feel They'll Wrap It Up

on the field now.

"But I'm not conceding, if I was playing One-Eyed Cat I wouldn't concede. We've got one foot in the grave and we've got to get up off our rears and play baseball or get beat."

That the Mets have been playing baseball, despite their ineffective pitching, is clear from the hitting statistics. Art Shamsky has collected six hits in three trips and Tommie Agee, Cleon Jones and Ken Boswell all homered in Sunday's wild one that lasted 3 hours and 10 minutes.

In addition, the Mets found they could run on the Braves, stealing five bases—two each by Agee and Jones.

It was all enough to view the Mets as virtual shoo-ins, for almost everyone except Manager Gil Hodges, who managed to keep his voice fairly even as he assessed the two games so far:

"Our boys, I think, are under-rated as a hitting ball club," Hodges said. And he added: "I think we have played better defensive ball than the Braves."

No one can argue with either statement.

Records Are Broken in College Play

Records are made to be broken and apparently there's not much that college football defenses can do about it.

Bear Bryant pretty well summed it up after his Alabama team outlasted Mississippi 33-32 Saturday night:

"It was Mississippi doing so well offensively rather than us doing poorly on defense," he said.

With Archie Manning of the 20th-ranked Ole Miss completing 33 of 52 for 436 yards and 15th-ranked Alabama's Scott Hunter connecting on 22 of 29 for 300, the two Southeastern Conference antagonists set 20 offensive records—one national, seven SEC, nine Mississippi and three Alabama marks.

The national record was 55 completions, erasing the standard of 53 set by Texas-El Paso and New Mexico in 1967 and UTEP and Brigham Young in 1966.

Eighty-ranked Purdue and 17th-ranked Stanford put on another record-smashing show, with Purdue taking a 36-35 squeaker on five scoring passes and a game-winning two-point conversion toss by Mike Phipps.

Besides Mississippi and Stanford, the only losers among the Top Twenty in The Associated Press ratings were 13th-ranked Michigan and No. 14 Michigan State. The Wolverines yielded 24 points in the second period and fell before ninth-ranked Missouri 40-17 while Notre Dame's Joe Theismann passed for three touchdowns and scored one to beat the Spartans 42-28.

Top-ranked Ohio State rolled over Washington 41-14 with Jim Ots scoring three times and Rex Kern twice. Sophomore Lydell Mitchell ran for 123 yards, including a 58-yard TD, as No. 2 Penn State held off Kansas State 17-14.

Arkansas' Bill Montgomery and Chuck Dicus teamed up for two scores as the third-ranked Razorbacks turned back Texas Christian 24-6 and, 4 Texas toyed with Navy 56-17, using its first-stringers less than half the game.

Clarence Davis rambled for 181 yards and Jimmy Jones threw three touchdown passes as fifth-ranked Southern California walloped Oregon State 31-7.

Oklahoma, ranked sixth, was idle but Georgia, No. 7, crushed South Carolina 41-16, breaking open a 14-10 contest with 27 points in the final quarter.

Tennessee, No. 10, drubbed Memphis State 55-16 and UCLA, No. 11, blanked Northwestern 36-0 as Mickey Cureton scored on gallops of 61 and 75 yards.

John Reeves, Florida's superb soph, threw his ninth and 10th scoring passes, both to Carlos Alvarez, as the 12th-ranked Gators defeated Florida State 21-6 and 16th-ranked Louisiana State crushed Baylor 63-8 in a game so one-sided that Andy Hamilton, a second-string back, scored four touchdowns.

West Virginia, No. 18, and Wyoming, No. 19, rolled to easy victories. The Mountaineers whipped hapless VMI 32-0, the Keydets suffering their third consecutive shutout, and the Cowboys pummeled Colorado State U. 39-3.

Other offensive displays were provided by Houston, which mauled Mississippi State 74-0 as Gary Mullins threw three touchdown passes to Elmo Wright and Robert Newhouse gained 245 yards on the ground; Idaho's Steve Olson, who passed for 363 and five TDs in a 31-21 upset of Southern Mississippi; Auburn's Pat Sullivan, four scoring passes in a 44-3 rout of Kentucky; Cornell's Ed Mariano,

Lose 10 lbs. in 10 days on Grapefruit Diet

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF. (Special) — This is the revolutionary grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants and offices throughout the U.S.

Because this diet really works. We have testimonials reporting on its success. If you follow it exactly, you should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. No weight loss in the first four days but you will suddenly drop 5 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter lose one pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 1 1/2 pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight. Best of all, there will be no hunger pangs. Revised and enlarged, this diet lets you stuff yourself with formerly "forbidden" foods, such as steaks trimmed with fat, roast or fried chicken, gravies, mayonnaise, lobster swimming in butter, bacon fat, sausages and scrambled eggs and still lose weight. The secret behind this "quick weight loss" diet is simple. Fat does not form fat. And the grapefruit juice in this diet acts as a catalyst (the "trigger"), to start the fat burning process. You stuff yourself on the permitted food listed in the diet plan, and still lose unsightly fat and excess body fluids. A copy of this startling successful diet can be obtained by sending $2 to

5211 W. Jefferson
L.A. Calif. 90016

Money-back guarantee. If after trying the diet you have not lost 7 pounds in the first seven days, another 6 pounds in the next 7 days, and 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter, simply return the diet plan and your $2 will be refunded promptly and without argument. Tear out this message as a reminder. Decide now to regain the trim attractive figure of your youth.

Aaron Can't Believe Mets Leads Series

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "If I had been told before the series started we'd get six and five runs off (Jerry) Koosman and Tom Seaver, I would have thought we'd sweep the series," says Atlanta's Hank Aaron.

Instead, the Braves, champions of the National League's West Division, move into the home of the New York Mets—Shea Stadium—after losing the first two games at home.

However, the Braves weren't ready to play dead even though the Mets won eight of their 12 meetings during the regular season.

"I'm not conceding," said Manager Luman Harris of the Braves. "If I was playing One-Eyed Cat I wouldn't concede."

Neither were the Mets talking about a sweep, but Koosman was confident of victory.

"The way we are hitting I have all the confidence that we will get another win," Koosman said.

"Our boys, I think, are underrated as a hitting ball club," said Manager Gil Hodges of the Mets. "Naturally I thought our pitching would be better than it has been but they send up some pretty good stick men. We're fortunate our boys were hitting."

Aaron belted a three-run homer in the fifth Sunday when Atlanta rallied for five runs and trimmed the New York lead to

Brooks Offers to Help in Race Problems

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — Negroes with racial problems in any Arkansas community are welcome to assistance by members of the Committee for Peaceful Coexistence, the Rev. Cato Brooks says.

Brooks, cochairman of the committee here, said in an interview that the group now is a statewide organization. He said it plans to open an office in Little Rock.

The committee will not go into a city without invitation, Brooks said, so it won't be labeled as an unwanted outsider.

Brooks, 29, said the group's operations will be limited to organizing local Negroes so they can wage their own fight.

He said, though, that the group also was interested in working with poor whites as well as blacks for common objectives.

"Poverty does not know any color," he said. "I don't think we would run into any trouble."

Most of his recent time has been spent looking into problems in McNeil in Columbia County, Carthage in Dallas County and Cotton Plant, where a Negro was fatally shot during a scuffle with a policeman.

Other cities on his agenda, Brooks said, are Texarkana, El Dorado, Blytheville and Fort Smith.

The committee led picketing by Negroes of Forrest City merchants when Negroes contended that blacks were not given equal job opportunities. Brooks said much still needs to be done in Forrest City to open more jobs to Negroes.

Ramos Thinks About Next Opponent

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lightweight champion Mando Ramos, successful in the first defense of the crown, weighted a wealth of offers from around the world today. While not confirmed, it appeared likely the 20-year-old from Long Beach will next fight a former champion, Ismael Laguna, in Panama City later this year.

Laguna was at ringside in the Sports Arena Saturday night when Ramos knocked out unranked Yoshiaki Numata of Tokyo in the sixth round of their scheduled 15-rounder.

Ramos, 135, scoring his 20th knockout in 30 fights, floored the 24-year-old Numata, 134 1/2, in the fifth frame and put him away with a barrage of punches, many to the mid-section, in 2 minutes 20 seconds of the sixth.

"He (Aaron) always has been a nasty fellow with the bat," said Hodges. "I mean that as a compliment. He's a credit to the game."

Cleon Jones and Art Shamsky had three hits apiece for New York as the Mets clubbed six Atlanta pitchers for 13 hits.

"We've got one foot in the grave and we've got to get up off our rears and play baseball or get beat," said Harris.

The Braves' manager said he couldn't understand why his team was playing poorly, especially on defense. "If I knew what was causing it, I'd know what to do about it. I also don't understand why our pitchers are so damn wild. It's unbelievable they've been that wild."

With the Mets jumping off to a 9-1 lead before the Braves' five-run outburst, some of the 52,270 fans began grabbing at banners being carried throughout the park by loyal Mets fans.

Each time a "We Love The Mets" banner fell, fans in the section roared their approval. They had little else to roar about.

Title Fight in Italy Was Disappointing

By ENRICO JACOMINI
NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Bit-terness lingered here today over what most sports writers viewed as a disappointing world middleweight title fight Saturday night.

Rafael Nino Benvenuti kept his crown when Neapolitan referee Tony Giaraldi disqualified

Fraser Scott of Seattle, Wash., in the seventh round for fighting with his head too low.

The fans and writers didn't like the call. They said it left the fight hanging in mid-air and certainly added nothing to Benvenuti's stature.

Rino Tomassi, the promoter of the fight, said, "I don't think you can stop a world title fight for this reason. The referee must understand that this kind of thing is allowed in the United States."

Summing up what seemed to be the majority verdict on the two fighters, Tomassi added,

"Scott needs experience but he has good points. He has a lot of heart and he's very fast."

"Benvenuti was not in good shape. He took too many punches."

11 Nations to Ask UN Action on Hijackings

By WILLIAM N. GATIS
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.
(AP) — Eleven countries are requesting the U.N. General Assembly to ask all nations to outlaw aerial hijacking.

In a letter today to Secretary-General U Thant, the countries asked that "piracy in the air" be added to the agenda of the assembly's current session. They sought a study of legal measures that governments might adopt against a "growing menace to commercial aircraft."

They proposed a resolution calling for effective laws against seizure of aircraft in flight, punishment of hijackers, a new international convention against air piracy and compliance with the 1963 Tokyo convention "relating to the prompt release of passengers, crews and aircraft."

Countries sponsoring the resolution are the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, Canada, New Zealand, Lesotho, the Malagasy Republic, the Philippines, Argentina, the Dominican Republic and Ecuador.

Interested diplomats said the assembly probably will agree this week to take up the question although there may be some abstentions.

They speculated that the Soviet Union would argue that an assembly debate is unnecessary because the International Civil Aviation Organization in Montreal is working on the problem.

Meanwhile, black African diplomats planned to step up their attack against white governments in Africa and against South Africa's failure to release South West Africa to U.N. control.

President Ahmadou Ahidjo of Cameroon was to present the General Assembly this afternoon a declaration against colonialism and racism that the African nations adopted Sept. 10 at their summit conference in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

Linkletter's Daughter Died on LSD

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Art Linkletter blames LSD for the death of his 20-year-old daughter.

"It wasn't suicide," the star of the House Party television show told newsmen Sunday, "because she wasn't herself. It was murder. She was murdered by the people who manufacture and sell LSD."

Diane Linkletter plunged from the kitchen window of her sixth-floor apartment Saturday as a friend, Edward Durston, tried to grab her.

Linkletter, 57, said he had known for six months that she was part of a Hollywood group that experimented with drugs.

Durston, 27, told police Miss Linkletter had asked him to come to her apartment Friday where they spent the night talking. She was emotional and despondent, concerned with her identity and her career, police quoted Durston as saying.

Drugs aspects of the case are still being investigated, police said.

Photographer Says Jackie Flipped Him

NEW YORK (AP) — A newspaper photographer says Jacqueline Onassis flipped him to the sidewalk with a judo hold after he took her picture outside the movie theater showing "I AM Curious Yellow," the Swedish sex film.

Mel Finkelstein of the New York Daily News said Sunday night that Mrs. Onassis "grabbed my right wrist, . . . put her leg out and flipped me over her thigh."

But the doorman of Cinema 57 Rendezvous on West 57th street said Finkelstein slipped while taking a picture of the former Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

Neither Mrs. Onassis nor a family spokesman could be reached for comment.

Finkelstein and other photographers were waiting in the lobby of the theater because the management had notified the news media that Mrs. Onassis and her husband, Aristotle, were viewing the film after arriving in separate cars.

Investigators. However, much information obtained in this area investigation should soon show results.

The Grand Jury concluded that to appreciably slow illegal sale of liquor, attention must be given by the Legislature to the law of possession of intoxicating liquors in a dry county. The Legislature should be made aware of the practice of "bootleggers" having the allowable one gallon of intoxicating whiskey made up of half-pint bottles, which practice should belie their claim of possession for personal use. These half-pint bottles are often of many different brands. It is recommended that Rep. Talbot Feild Jr. investigate the drafting and passage of a law limiting the number of containers constituting the permitted gallon.

The Grand Jury concluded that more severe punishment of habitual offenders would be helpful in slowing illegal traffic. The predictability of a certain fine in all cases makes it an appreciable expense of "doing business." Observing that the filing of felony charges against a habitual "bootlegger" is the sole responsibility of the Prosecuting Attorney, the Grand Jury recommends that the Prosecuting Attorney and his deputy be furnished with a list of known offenders, detailing their records of convictions and forfeitures, and that the Prosecuting Attorney keep this list current and use the same, working with the Sheriff and City Police, so that maximum sentences, fines, etc., can be insisted upon wherever possible and beneficial to the public interest. Much of the detailed information relating to "bootleggers" has of necessity come from informants who must go nameless. The Grand Jury regrets that it cannot publicly recognize and thank these individuals for this service. However, each knows who he or she is, and to you we say "thank you."

It is up to others to see that your contribution has not been wasted. Three practices followed generally, which do not meet with the approval of the Grand Jury and which it feels should be phased out of practice, are the working out of fines with the City of Hope Street Department, installment payment of fines, and weekend jail sentences.

As to the first, there is not available sufficient supervision of prisoners to insure their efficient use, nor is there any punishment for laxity and failure to work. The regular street department employees are also adversely affected by the incompetence and disinterest of many prisoners on the job. This practice, therefore, does not seem to be helpful to the City or to the prisoner and should be eliminated.

Collection of installment fines is one of the primary causes of lack of public confidence in the Hope Police Department. This practice when applied to known "bootleggers" whose fines are not only paid by installment but also collected by uniformed policemen at the home or place of business of the convicted offender has been disastrous to police public relations. Although the Grand Jury commends the department for its diligence in these collections and is convinced of the integrity of its officers, the appearance which this practice presents to the uninformed onlooker is obvious.

Door-to-door collections should be terminated forthwith and installment, fine collections should be phased out of use altogether except for stays expressly authorized and permitted by the sentencing court.

Weekend jail sentences are a prerogative of the sentencing magistrate and such decisions should not be made by the arresting officers or jailer. The Grand Jury recommends that the courts take particular care in applying this to offense involving intoxicating beverages as often the weekly paycheck intended to support a family is used for purchase of even more intoxicants. Although the beneficial aspects of this type of sentencing are conceded and the publicity which it has received among offenders has caused them to rely upon it, the Grand Jury feels that it should be phased out gradually with such notice as the Sheriff's Office and City Police Department feels adequate and necessary.

Municipal Judge, John L. Wilson, is commended by the Grand Jury for his cooperation with it in this investigation and his recommendations for future handling of habitual offenders. A discussion with the Grand Jury about his plans for handling these matters in the future was most encouraging as is the offer of the Hempstead County Christian Civic Foundation to accept probationary supervision of all first offenders and all chronic violators of Public Drunkenness Statutes. Quite admirable was their proposal to assist families adversely affected by elimination of weekend sentences and installment payments of fines.

This committee also looked into the problems of cattle theft which has become distressingly prevalent in this area. The difficulty of apprehension is of primary concern, and the Sheriff's Office should cooperate in every way with the various commission houses and sale barns in the area to institute practices making sale of stolen livestock more difficult. It is recommended that the Sheriff's Office use the same effort and procedures for detection and arrest of cattle thieves as it is hoped will be used in investigating other felonies. Preferably, additional time and energy will be expended until the situation is effectively controlled by Legislation. The Grand Jury is informed by the Prosecuting Attorney that there is no statute requiring sale barns or commission houses, other than those federally inspected, to have a feasible method of identifying and recording the true identity of the sellers, the description of the vehicle delivering cattle, or the description and registration of the cattle themselves. This Grand Jury strongly recommends that the Hempstead County Representative, Talbot Feild, Jr., and the district's Senator, Olen Hendrix, make a complete investigation into this matter and that bills which will restrict the facility with which stolen livestock are sold and traded be prepared for introduction at the next term of the Legislature.

The Committee to Inspect County Property advised with the County Judge and received an inventory of all county property. All public buildings and personal property of the county was inspected by them and found to be accurately reported on the inventory furnished them by the County Judge. No evidence of waste or mismanagement was found.

The Committee to Examine Accounts of Collecting Officers made a complete and thorough investigation into all offices and examined witnesses and exhibits in connection therewith. The Grand Jury makes the following observations and recommendations concerning the county offices: No irregularities were noted in the office of the Circuit Clerk and no complaints whatsoever were received. The office of the County Treasurer is operated according to law no irregularities were noted, and no complaints were received by the Grand Jury. The County Clerk's office is apparently operated according to law and tradition. No irregularities were noted and no complaints received. No irregularities were noted in the office of the County Judge and no complaints were received about the same. Grand Jury does, however, take note of the cash balance in the County Road Account of approximately $29,000.00. The offices of the Sheriff and Collector, being joined in Hempstead County, were treated separately. The Grand Jury takes note that all activities of the Collector's Office are directed toward serving the public's convenience; that their books and accounts are audited by the State, and no irregularities were noted and no complaints were received. The Sheriff's Office apparently spends a great amount of time serving papers, collecting fines, and aiding local business people in collecting bad checks and bad debts. The Grand Jury feels that the last named policy is not desirable, but certainly serves the convenience of the business public and is a service performed by the Sheriff's Office according to long tradition. No irregularities were noted in this office and no complaints were received concerning it. The Tax Assessor's Office is operated according to tradition. The books and records are apparently kept according to law, and the average assessment for the county is checked by state appraisers. It is noted that the law requires the assessment level to be twenty per cent (20 percent) and the county is traditionally within the margin allowed for error; however, the Grand Jury recommends that the Tax Assessor personally, or by deputy, make an examination of the rural lands of the county and consult with local real estate agents as to the increasing market values. The Grand Jury notes that the Assessment Equalization Board met this year and allowed assessments on individually owned farm land in generally rural areas to remain at the existing level of $5.00 per acre and set assessments on all timber company land at $9.50 per acre, an increase from the previous level of $6.50 per acre. The Grand Jury is aware of the competence and experience of the members of the Equalization Board, but strongly recommends that this action be followed by increased vigilance of the Tax Assessor. It appears unlikely that the average price of rural land in Hempstead County now remains $25.00 per acre. This recommendation does not imply that city property be overlooked, but merely that the expanding market for land in this area requires more careful attention by the Tax Assessor than has been the practice in the past.

The Grand Jury conducted a great bulk of its deliberation and examinations of witnesses in the main Court Room located in the Hempstead County Court House. The useful inadequacies of the acoustical properties and the sound reproduction facilities of said Court Room were distressingly obvious. It is therefore recommended that immediate steps be taken to replace the present electronic sound amplifying system with a modern electronic sound amplifying system, plus any reasonable and necessary acoustical work in the Court Room which will enable all those directly concerned in court proceedings to hear all others directly involved, and so that the spectators, as well, may hear. The Grand Jury takes note that a recent proposal for this work has been received by the County Judge and is confident that he will take the necessary steps to perform this service for the citizens of Hempstead County.

This report is respectfully submitted by the Hempstead County Grand Jury for the April, 1969 term, who respectfully requests that the same be accepted by this Honorable Court.

The Day the Fish Didn't Bite; and Some Alibis

Last Friday, Oct. 3, I left a note here stating forthrightly I was abandoning the column for the day to go fishing on Millwood Lake with Capt. Bob Peterson. Naturally you'd like to know how it turned out.

It didn't. Bob and I bought four dozen minnows, fished the lake for four hours - and neither of us got a bite, much less a fish. It was a comfortable lazy day in Autumn, but the wind came up toward noon, the overcast increased - and the fish stayed away from us like poison.

We were the fifth boat to anchor close to stobs on the edge of Little River channel in the big pool in front of the dam. One couple apparently held down the only spot on the lake that the fish liked, and they caught a nice string. We changed anchorage several times, always returning to see whether the couple had abandoned their fishing hole - but they never did. So about 2 p.m. we quit and went for a boat ride up to the Highway 71 bridge, approximately the top of the lake.

Theoretically the edge of the river channel is an ideal fishing location. The depth-sounder showed 10 to 12 feet on the edge, and 30 to 35 feet in the center of the channel. Fishing experts recommend such a spot as being on a likely fish traffic pattern up and down a sharp slope - but it didn't work for us last Friday, nor for three of the other four boats at the same location.

The favorite spot of most fishermen working Millwood is up the Saline River near the pipeline area and the levy protecting the Okay cement mill. I've done well there myself.

Bob Peterson returned to that very area last Saturday and came home with his limit of bass - which confirms my suspicion that we were in the wrong place Friday - experts or no experts.

The measure of Friday's disaster is just this: I worked one minnow for 45 minutes and he was intact and as lively as when I first baited the hook. I worked all the elevations from 2 feet off the bottom to just below the surface - to no avail.

Our solid accomplishments Friday were just two:

1. I finally got my boat out of the front yard and back in its slip at Paul Millwee's Cypress Slough dock, and

2. Got in the last word in a verbal exchange with the man and woman in the one fish-catching boat. I asked them how they were doing, and the woman replied, "They just quit for us," and I said, "For us they haven't yet started..."

Republicans Encourage Candidates

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - The Legislative Candidates Committee of the state Republican party has been reactivated to encourage GOP members to run for legislative positions, says state Republican Chairman Orell Pollard of Searcy.

He said Saturday that the party's state Executive Committee had adopted a resolution approving the nomination of U.S. District Court Judge Clement Haynsworth to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Pollard said the legislative committee would help the party gather money to finance campaigns by legislative candidates.

Two "well-known Democratic lawyers" are considering running for the legislature as Republicans, Pollard said. He refused to name them.

The GOP has begun a study to determine which areas of the state give the Republicans the best chance of winning, he said.

TV Station Makes Changes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Leake TV, Inc., owners of Little Rock television station KATV, announced Sunday that Robert D. Doubleday, vice president and general manager of KATV, has been named president of Leake TV.

It also was announced that Thomas L. Goodgame, station manager of KATV, would fill Doubleday's position.

Illegal Gun Sales Add to Army Scandal

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) - Maj. Gen. Carl C. Turner used his position as the Army's provost marshal general to obtain hundreds of firearms from the police departments of Chicago and Kansas City and sold many of them privately, a Senate investigator testified today.

Philip R. Manuel, a staff investigator for the Senate's investigations subcommittee, said Turner told the departments he wanted the weapons for Army training and for display in the military police museum.

Manuel said many of these handguns, shotguns and rifles and others, which he said Turner obtained from Ft. Bliss, Tex., were sold by the general to a North Carolina gun dealer.

Turner, who is now retired from the Army, has been mentioned frequently in testimony involving allegations he covered up evidence against Sgt. Maj. William O. Woodbridge, once sergeant major of the Army. Turner is expected to testify Tuesday.

In the second week before the Senate investigating subcommittee, Army witnesses are expected to detail more about the double life they said was led by Woodbridge.

These are a few of the allegations so far made in the Senate testimony:

— Woodbridge was a leader of a multimillion-dollar criminal conspiracy of top-ranking enlisted men who schemed to systematically loot funds, equipment, food and liquor from NCO clubs in Germany, the United States and Vietnam.

— That the alleged scheme grossed $350,000 annually in rake-offs from slot machine proceeds in the clubs of the 24th Infantry Division in the Augsburg-Munich area of Germany.

— That Woodbridge used his rank, connections and influence to promote his friends, and to protect the alleged conspiracy from exposure.

— That at a secret, convalesce at Ft. Benning Ga., Wood-

Families Can Visit Hospital Any Time

Bill Cross, Administrator of Hempstead County Memorial Hospital states there seems to be a misunderstanding about the family passes for patients who are in the hospital.

Each family will be issued two family passes—these two passes may be kept until the patient is discharged, at which time the passes must be turned in at the visitors' desk in the front of the hospital.

This card presented at the desk entitles the family members to visit any time, day or night.

New Groomobile Calls at a Dog's Home When He Needs Bath, Trim

By HAL BOYLE NEW YORK (AP) - Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

If every dog has his day, this must be the day. The latest petting device, a mobile van called a "Groomobile," calls at the dog's home when he needs a grooming, thus saving him the nuisance of having to make a trip to town for a bath and hair trim.

Wake up tired this morning? Maybe the mattress was to blame. Most people roll over or change posture 40 times during eight hours of sleep—but more often if the mattress is too hard rather than merely firm. Sleep experts say the extra twisting and turning can leave you weary.

What is the healthiest period of life, except for accidents? Medical authorities say it is between the ages of 5 and 15, when the body's resistance appears at its peak and therefore the mor-

Hints Breakthrough in Search for Peace in the Vietnam War

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Nixon's chief spokesman in the Senate, Republican Leader Hugh Scott, has indicated a breakthrough may be in the offing in the search for peace in Vietnam.

Although he provided no details, Scott answered "yes, it is possible" when asked Sunday if the both sides might be approaching a de facto cease fire.

The Pennsylvania gave the same answer when asked if Nixon "might be on the verge of something right now."

"I cannot tell you where there will be solid news, but there are some things happening," Scott said.

He was interviewed on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation."

But in a separate interview, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said he knew of nothing that was about to be revealed by the Nixon administration on the Vietnam situation. He also backed up Nixon's refusal to be swayed by antiwar protests.

The President "cannot respond to the exhortation if he is convinced that that exhortation is based on illogics, simply because there are large number of people, because large numbers of people in a country of 200 million are still a small percentage of the citizens," he said.

Agnew said the United States has made many unsuccessful efforts to bring about peace.

"I can't point to anything specific," Agnew said. "I can only say the President is moving in all ways possible to reach an amicable solution to this terrible conflict."

He was interviewed on ABC's program "Issues and Answers."

Agnew's and Scott's comments came as Congress appeared to be preparing for increased debate on Vietnam policy.

Chief protagonist for stepping up the public debate is Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., whose Foreign Relations Committee has scheduled five days of hearings on a bill to get all U.S. troops out of Vietnam by Dec. 1, 1970.

"The President has stated an intention to extricate the United States from the war," said Fulbright. "The Senate should give thorough study to all policy alternatives for achieving that objective."

Scott has called for a moratorium on criticism about administration Vietnam policy.

If war opponents "could be quiet for about 60 days, the President may well have some things to show the American people," Scott said.

A nationwide student strike scheduled Oct. 15 to protest continuance of the war has threatened to envelop Congress with the announcement by a number of antiwar senators and representatives that they will boycott the Capitol that day.

Fulbright's hearing—possibly televised as were similar ones with far-reaching consequences three years ago—are scheduled to begin Oct. 27.

In the House, a bipartisan group of representatives backed a resolution supporting Nixon's plan for withdrawing U.S. troops from Vietnam at the earliest possible date but without a specific timetable.

The House resolution was introduced today by Rep. James F. Hastings, R-N.Y. Hastings said more than 90 others would join in introducing the resolution, adding: "We here at home must remain unified behind the President so Hanoi can understand that it will not achieve a victory through default, but that it can achieve peace through negotiation."

Cooling Trend Predicted for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Arkansas will experience a cooling trend for the next two days with the coolest temperatures expected to be recorded in the state Tuesday.

This cool front moved into the northwest section of Arkansas Sunday night, bringing with it some light rainfall. Showers have developed in the central section of the state and should continue through today and most of tonight.

The forecast calls for mostly cloudy skies through Tuesday morning with a few degrees cooler temperatures. Southerly winds will shift to the north as the front eases through the state from the west today at six to 16 m.p.h.

Overnight lows were 60 at Fayetteville, 63 at Little Rock, 64 at Harrison, 66 at Jonesboro, Pine Bluff and Blytheville, 68 at El Dorado, 69 at Memphis and 71 at Texarkana.

Two Sought for Robbery Near Benton

BENTON, Ark. (AP) - The Benton Police Department and the Saline County Sheriff's department set up road blocks today for two men wanted in connection with a $300 service station robbery near Benton.

The robbery occurred shortly after 7 a.m. today at the Westside American Service Station on U.S. 30.

The two men fled in a 1961 light green Chevrolet with Texas license plates.

Rotary Hears Watermelon Ambassadors

Two Watermelon Ambassadors, Pod Rogers and Carter Russell, and the President of the Hope Chamber of Commerce, George Frazier, were guests at the Hope Rotary Club last Friday at a luncheon meeting in the Town and Country.

In a program arranged by Robert LaGrone, Mr. Rogers spoke campaign to promote the giant Hope watermelons.

After a successful trip to the HemisFair last year for the same purpose, the only way they could top it was by going to Hollywood, the speaker explained. As the Rotarians heard a day by day account of the trip, they became convinced that it was more of an "adventure" than a mere "trip."

If Pod Rogers was an "ambassador without portfolio," he was not one without promotional ability. According to him, the largest melon they took from Hope was so big that the picture of it weighed 10 pounds.

Southern Californians won't forget these Southwest Arkansas, and because of the nationwide coverage of events, the entire country has been made aware of "the watermelon capital of the world."

Court Opens Busy Term, 1 Chair Empty

By BARRY SCHWEID Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court opens a busy term today with a new chief justice while a fight roars in the Senate over the man picked to fill the vacant chair to his extreme left.

The new chief, Warren E. Burger, and seven holdover justices face decisions on such controversial matters as churches' tax exemptions, use of the death penalty, the priority drafting of war protesters and the rights of Negroes and the underprivileged.

But following tradition, the opening session is brief and really with little substance. About 75 lawyers are admitted to practice and Burger and his colleagues adjourn to a week-long series of private conferences on about 600 appeals that have piled up since last Spring.

The first round of decisions—hundreds of them—will be announced next Monday.

Figuratively at least, the justices are looking over their shoulders to the Senate where President Nixon's nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth is in serious trouble.

Haynsworth, picked by Nixon and Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell in August to succeed Abe Fortas, has run into rigid opposition from labor, liberal and civil rights groups. Some of them have accused the federal appeals court judge of unethical judicial behavior, an allegation that takes on deeper meaning since it was an ethics flap that brought about Fortas' resignation last May.

The Senate Judiciary Committee meets Wednesday, possibly for an initial vote. The nomination appears to have the support of most conservative Republicans and Democrats, but liberals and moderates have been asserting their opposition in growing numbers.

Whatever happens, it is undoubted that the court will have

Unemployment Biggest Leap in 9 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) - Unemployment in September made its biggest leap in nine years and rose to its highest rate in two years, the Labor Department announced today.

The over-all unemployment rose from 3.5 per cent in August to 4 per cent in September, the largest increase since September-October 1960.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics noted that unemployment normally drops from August to September as young workers return to school—but it failed to drop this year. Unemployment was up 365,000 over the month, with two-fifths of the increase among workers in the 20 to 24 age group.

A spokesman for the bureau said the nation's level of employment is at its highest in history and that the unemployment boost signifies a slowdown in the rate of employment growth—mostly in the construction and government fields.

Over the year, unemployment has risen by 350,000, reflecting an increase of 150,000 for adult women and 100,000 each for adult men and teen-agers.

The actual number of unemployed persons in September totaled about three million. The 4 per cent unemployment rate was the highest since Oct. 1967, when it reached 4.2 per cent. The trend this year began with a 3.3 per cent average in the first quarter climbing to 3.5 in the second and 3.7 in the third.

The bureau said one explanation for the sharp increase might be that the September survey was taken early in the month, perhaps before a large number of young persons had yet re-entered school.

Indictments Are Returned by Special Jury

The Hempstead County Grand Jury called into session to investigate the December 25, 1968 slaying of Larry Yates and other matters, issued its report today. Dennis Turner was tried and found not guilty in connection with the shooting. Here's the Grand Jury's report in its entirety:

GRAND JURY REPORT

The Grand Jury, having been called into session and a foreman appointed, divided itself into committees and met both as a whole and in committees, as more fully set forth in the appendix attached hereto. One of the Jury's first official acts was to request the assistance of a special counsel, Albert Graves, Jr., to conduct the examination of witnesses by both the Grand Jury proper and the various committees. It was felt by the Grand Jury, because of the nature of its duties, that a qualified attorney with no direct law enforcement connection would best serve the interests of the Grand Jury and the public, and no lack of confidence in the elected Prosecuting Attorney for the district should be inferred.

The trial of Dennis Turner for first degree murder was investigated thoroughly by the Grand Jury as a whole, sitting as a committee to inquire into public offenses committed in the county. This committee examined the transcript of the trial, subpoenaed and examined most witnesses who testified at the trial, as well as many witnesses whose alleged involvements had come to light after the trial. The Grand Jury tracked every shred of evidence made known to it; regardless of the apparent reliability or irresponsibility of its source. It examined exhibits and tracked down rumors; it used the assistance of the Defendant's family and its attorney, as well as the Prosecuting Attorney's Office and the commanding officer of the Arkansas State Police Department, Colonel Ralph Scott. It is the conclusion of the Grand Jury that there was no conspiracy to murder or rob Larry Yates on the morning of December 25, 1968. That Dennis Turner acted alone, and the Grand Jury makes its presentment against Dennis Turner for robbery of Larry Yates on December 25, 1968, and asks that the Prosecuting Attorney issue an indictment for submission to the Grand Jury.

It is further concluded by the Grand Jury that the actions of Richard Turner on the morning of December 25, 1968, as related by him in his testimony to the Petit Jury in State of Arkansas v. Dennis Turner, constituted the acts of an accessory to the crime of robbery and the Grand Jury hereby requests a presentment of the Prosecuting Attorney for the indictment of Richard Turner as an accessory to robbery of Larry Yates on Dec. 25, 1968.

The testimony of Johnny Mitchell at the trial of Dennis Turner relating his actions on the night of December 24, 1968, and the morning of December 25, 1968 is concluded by the Grand Jury to be an admission of acts which contributed to the delinquency of minors, Larry Yates and Dennis Turner, and as a result, an indictment is requested by presentment against Johnny Mitchell for the crime of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. The Grand Jury declines to return a true bill against Johnny Mitchell as an accessory to robbery of Larry Yates on December 25, 1968, and returns a no true bill as to this charge.

The Grand Jury, however, wishes to make it emphatically clear that it did not conclude that either Richard Turner or Johnny Mitchell directly participated in the planning or execution of the robbery and murder of Larry Yates and hereby expressly repudiates such a conclusion.

The Grand Jury also directed its attention to the investigation and preparation for trial of the Larry Yates murder by the various law enforcement officers and agencies involved. The Jury concludes that the investigation of the case by the Criminal Justice Commission (on page two)
